Fourteenth street is roped off part of the way south of Pennsylvania avenue during certain hours now, he said, and with the increased traffic from the new government buildings he did not believe the two thoroughferes would be able to handle the load.

The Midcity spokesmen stressed above all things, nowever, that a market be maintained. Legislation immediately for a new market is all important, they declared, and selection of a site can come later. Cold storage, he said. And that's the reason, he contended, that the cost of living is so high. There is so much carting back and forth, from the market to the cold storage, and vice versa, it all increases overhead expense. There must be concentration of all the elements making up the industry, he insisted. It was his contention that the bartering between the housewife and the farmer is a small part of the business at the farmers' market. There are markets for the housewife all over the city, he said.

What it means for the Southwest business interests to get the site was revealed by R. L. Eacho, sea food dealer. He said that he had to sell a pound of crab meat for 85 cents, which at Center Market cost $1.5. He had to make this low offer, he said, to get the "customers down that far." He was unconsciously testifying against his site. His question raised the question of whether if the farmers' market was located on the water front this source of low priced crab meat might not be removed.

Mrs. Wiley Only Woman.

Virtually All Assail Eldridge's Approval of Southwest From Traffic View.

Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley. wife of the prominent writer on health subjects, expressed surprise that she seeined to be the only woman interested in a matter so vital to the housewife. She favored the Southwest site, declaring it was easily accessible to her from the northwest section. The high cost of living soon will force housewifes to quit playing bridge and go to the market, she declared. The car fare involved, she said, is saved in one small purchase. The mideity advocates, including Evan H. Tucker, president of the Mashington Market Co. and the Terminal Refrigerating & Warehouse Co. advocating the Southwest site. declared the latter view should be the main consideration, and that unless this concentration is brought about there never will be any decrease in the cost of living. Maryland farmers, said to furnish from 85 to 90 per cent of the produce to the market, want the midcity site, already located in a residential center, would be readily accessible to residents of other sections of the city. Their theory was that the market primarily is a place of barter for farmer and housewife.

Senator Capper asked Mr. Scalco why, if the was so essential for the sea food merchants to be near the market, they could mot move. Mr. Scalco replied that "if they get too far from the river the fish will smell."

There will be another hearing at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Voice of Washington By Radio Predicted

"It is within the range of possibility that we may hear George Washington in his farewell address by means of the radio in the years to come." Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, stated last night in remarking upon the possibilities of the future. The occasion was the celebration of the ninetieth anniversary of the admission to the Union of Michigan by the Michigan State society. "If it is possible that the rays of light that we saw yesterday were given off by the sun millions of years ago, it could be equally possible that the sound waves made by people travel in an orbit around the world and will some day picked up by radio," he stated.

Never Prescribes Liquor.

Dr. Kelly, who is on the staff of the Johns Hopkins University hospital, said last night that "there is no particular disease for which alcohol is prescribed as a remedy of great value." He added that he never prescribed it himself.

While alcohol may be used in cases of influenza and pneumonia, or to save the lives of "old topers." there is no dase in which it is used as a "curative remedy." he said. He described that he nearly of the case in the lives of "old topers." there is no asset the whole the discarded. Dr. Kelly provoked laughter when he described conditions in the seventies, when it was the fashion to prescribe of the many of the intervent of remediating that a manual plant of any proposed plan of establiquor for almost everything. Capper to Speak Today.

Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas was to have spoken last night, but was unable to attend because of a committee meeting. He sent word that he would appear this morning. Following this morning's session, the delegates will be received by President Coolidge at the White House.

America is a iand of liberty, but it is "liberty under law," Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Washington, told the delegates last night. There is no such thing, he said, to do as one pleases in this republic. The will of the people, as expressed in a law of the land, he declared, limits the rights and liberties of every citizen. land, he declared, limits the rights and liberties of every citizen.

"Prohibition deprives no one of his rights or his proper liberty," Senator Jones said. "It does serve to protect and preserve the rights and liberties of sober, law-abiding citizens and helpless children. Liquor took away those rights and liberties and life itself."

Respited Violators Assailed. Senator Jones assailed men of in fluence who violate the eighteenth mendment and thus "encourage anarchy and justify bolshevism. Haynes, looking back over the seven years of prohibition, declared that the "amazing thing about the prohibition is not that it is difficult to enforce, but that it has been so successfully enforced and so generally observed as it has been."

"Even a generation," he said, "is not too long to wait for final judgment concerning a great forward crusade for humanity."

Woman, Man in Knife Fight; Still Is Found

Responding to a riot call at 1719 Second street northwest, yesterday, police of the Second precinct found Heske Bryant, colored, 30 years old, and Thomas Fletcher, colored, 45, engaged in a knife duel, police say. Investigating further they found a still, police claim, but no liquor.

While police were in the house, they say, Charles Robinson, colored, 17 years old, 2221 Second street northwest, entered the building carrying a sawed-off shotgun. He was arrested and charged with carrying a concealed weapon. The police, who were led by Capt. Burlingame, Acting Lleut. N. O. Holmes, and Precinct Detectives L. M. Wilson and N. G. Thayer, took the alleged duelers to Freedmen's hospital, where approximately 65 stitches were taken in each. They later were charged with assault and Bryant with an additional charge of possessing an unlicensed still.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Wildebrandt, Assistant United States Attorney General, compared the Constitution to a great dike, the foundations of which are the supporting laws of the States. If the people were not so "ignorant" of the laws surrounding prohibition, she said, the arguments of the wets would not get so far. She expressed the opinion that the only additional legislation needed where prohibition is concerned is legislation which would put more teeth in the law.

Sinister Forces Called Active.

Representative Grant M. Hudson, of Michigan, declared that the "sinister forces" opposed to prohibition are more active today than at any time since the adoption of the eighteenth amendment and that they have more money at their command than ever before. An aroused citizenry, he said, is needed to curtail crime and to bring about law enforcement.

STUDENT, SON OF POET, ENDS HIS LIFE AT YALE

Richard S. Untermeyer Had

She testified that at Cold Springs, N. Y., she heard Mr. and Mrs. Browning quarrel frequently and once she heard Mrs. Browning scream behind locked doors.

"Mother, please take care of me," the witness said Mrs. Browning told her and Mrs. Carolyn Heenan, when she and the girl's mother rushed to the couple's bedroom.

Mr. Mack, in his cross-examination, sought to bring out that the witness heard only one scream, that she was triendly with Mrs. Heenan, and had been out of employment three weeks. The trial thus far has been marked by the appearance of Mrs. Browning, one girl friend, her mother, her mother's friend, Mrs. Mayer, two neurologists and a newspaper reporter, all called by her counsel, headed by Henry Epstein. Browning has been held back from the stand, presumably to take it only on rebuttal. To substantiate his charge that his wife abandoned him on October 2, 1926, he called upon the information of his chauffeur and his secretary, and rested his case.

His failure to take the stand is consemployment at $15 a week at a New York department store prior to her marriage.

She was called upon then to identify several tabloid papers offered in evidence as containing her serialized account of "Why I Left Daddy Browning."

Her voice during the first part of the testifying was in a low and somewhat nervous tone.

Mrs. Heenan, during her daughter's presence on the stand, sat nearby in the court clerk's chair in case she should be called upon as yesterday to help compose her daughter in a break down.

Mr. Browning's counsel then submitted the first letter thus far offered, from the young woman to the elderly realtor. It was followed by others, so many, indeed, on all types and tints of paper; it was apparent Mr. Browning had preserved a large collection.

Supress Court Justice Seeger, after receipt of a telegram from John S. Summer, who signed himself secretary of the New York Society for the suppression of Vice, requesting that further sessions of the trial be held for private, explained to the Associated Press his reasons for allowing a public trial.

"The policy of our law," the justice said, "is against secrecy except in such cases as are definitely set forth in the law. A judge may have to decide against the world, and it is difficult to make a decision without offending some one."

"The United States has always desired as unity, the independence and prosertiety of the Chinese nation. It has estred that tariff control and extrater-toriality provided by our treaties with hims should as early as possible be researed. It was with that in view that the United States made the declaration a relation to the relinquishment of expansion of the Chinese and the other powers. About a relation to the relinquishment of expansion of the Chinese and the other powers, however, remained in China in the hope of continuing the negotiations, and on July 3, 1926, made a declaration as follows: the unity, the independence and pros-perity of the Chinese nation. It has desired that tariff control and extrater-perity of the Chinese nation. It has desired that tariff control and extraterizioniality provided by our treaties with China should as early as possible be released. It was with that in view that the United States made the declaration in relation to the relinquishment of extrateritoriality in the Treaty of 1903 and also entered into the Treaty of Washington of February 6, 1922, providing for a tariff conference to be held within three months after the coming into force of the treaty.

"The United States is now and has been, ever since the negotiation of the Washington treaty, prepared to enter into negotiations with any government of China or delegates who can represent or speak for China not only for the putting into force of the surtaxes of the Washington treaty, but entirely releasing tariff control and restoring complete tariff autonomy to China.

Before the Senate discussion, the foreign relations committee decided to defer action both on the Wheeler resolution for the withdrawal of American warships and marines from Micaragua and on the Norris resolution proposing an investigation of published charges that the State Department undertook to have press associations disseminate propagands affecting Nicaragua and Mexico.

Also the committee decided against complying with Secretary Kellogg's suggestion that it make public the transcript of his statement to the committee two weeks ago on Nicaraguan policy.

ALL EYES ON CHINA.

The world is turning its eyes toward China. The Chinese factions seem to have suspended hostilities, waiting breathlessly for the expected clash between the Cantonese army and the British forces that are assembling at Shanghai. Few observers believe that the large British forces, amounting to 21,000 men, will be engaged solely in defending British interests at Shanghai. They expect to witness an effort by the British commander in chief to reach Hankow and recover possession of the British concession. As this is held by the Cantonese army, an advance up the Yangtzekiang by the British would speedily provoke war.

The United States intends to confine its military and naval activities to the protection of American life and property. There is no agreement requiring the United States to join hands with the outside powers, even for the defense of foreign compounds, and still less for general operations.

Americans are anxious to have the Chinese people know that this country loes not intend to take part in any war to enforce foreign demands or retain foreign occupation of any part of China. Americans are not asking for special privileges, concessions, or territory. They are willing to treat with China as an equal, asking only most-favored-nation treatment. If the American people have their way, no American military or naval forces will engage in hostilities in China. Citizens of this country who are and danger are entitled to protection, and if possible they should be rescued. Fortunately the Chinese of Shanghai seem o understand that the United States is seeking only the safety of its citizens and is anxious to avoid any action which might be construed as part of a plan of the outside powers to check the nationalist movement that is going on.

Although legitimate British interests in China are very large, the great size of the British force now being sent to Shanghai may prove to be an unfortunate move by causing the Chinese to fear that the offensive is to be taken by the British commander. It is a most ticklish situation, upon the outcome of which may depend the continuation of the present British government. Strenuous protests are voiced in England against the Chinese expedition. If war should come the sphere of hostilities might be extended to embrace parts of India, where domestic unrest and Russian intrigue have been recognized as dangerous factors.

British diplomatic agents have been feverishly engaged in trying to make peace with the Cantonese government, but thus far little headway seems to have been made. These agents are badly handicapped by reason of the fact that Britain holds Chinese territory as well as special concessions, which the Chinese now insist should be relinquished entirely. The amount of money involved, the intricate system of business that has been built up, and the large number of British subjects in China all conspire to make an adjustment extremely difficult, added to which is the intense anti-British feeling stirred up by Russian and native radicals.

The world will welcome the announcement that the United States looks with sympathy upon the establishment of stable government in China, by the Chinese and for the Chinese. Whatever the policy of other powers may be, the United States must avoid commitments which would draw it into hostilities. No shot | forestry and the science of lumbering will | sumer.

FOR PURCHASE OF PARK LANDS.

Chairman Zihlman, of the House District committee, has introduced a bill calling for an annual appropriation of $200,000 with which to match appropriations made by Virginia and Maryland for the purchase of park lands contiguous to the National Capital. Under its organic act the park and planning commission is authorized to secure such lands. Originally it was planned to appropriate for the commission $1,100,000 annually, or 1 cent per capita for the entire population of the United States, but the appropriations thus far have been entirely from District taxes to the amount of only $600,000 a year.

Maryland now proposes to set up a fund for purchase of park lands to be coordinated to nurchases by the National Capital body. It is unfair that local tax funds be spent for purchases outside the District. The Zihlman bill specifies that half of the cost of outside lands should be paid by the government.

In the meantime, opposition to the creation of a Maryland park and planning commission, to work in conjunction with the National Capital body, seems to have developed. On the theory that the burden of purchases by such a body would have to be borne principally by Montgomery and Prince Georges counties, and that this is unjust, a protest has been forwarded to Gov. Ritchie by residents of Hyattsville. In the protest, however, it is admitted that beautification of the Capital is an improvement in which all are interested and in which all should join. The Zihlman measure meets this situation. For park lands outside the District the Federal government would share half the cost, an eminently fair arrangement, since practically all the funds for use of the National Capital park and planning commission are paid by taxation of the District. The bill is fair to the District, the neighboring States and the Federal government. It should be enacted into law.

THE REAL AND THE FALSE.

The New York Times refers with approval to an address by Charles E. Hughes in which the former justice of the United States Supreme Court described that body. Mr. Hughes spoke of the principles of restraint adopted by the judges themselves, which have established the court as "an independent and exclusively judicial body." The court adopted the rule of deciding only actual cases. "Advisory opinions it refuses to give, although they were requested in the early days."

When Americans were disposed to support the world court created by the league of nations they took it for granted that it was like the United States Supreme Court-"an independent and exclusively judicial body." Then they learned that its chief function was to render advisory opinions to a political body. It would be a public benefit if Mr. Hughes and the New York Times would now frankly abandon their support of the bogus world court, and advocate the creation of "an independent and exclusively judicial body."

GIVE US A CHESS CZAR.

One by one our national pastimes are purifying themselves. Some time ago, when the moving picture industry found itself in disfavor, Will Hays was appointed dictator of the movies. Since then conditions have improved immeasurably. Baseball, too, under the benevolent czardom of Judge Landis, has been enthroned on the snow white peak of perfection, with only an occasional charge of sloughing, gambling or improper practice to enliven the monotony. Possibly there still is room for improvement in football, although, despite the recent charges of a former Harvard star that Princeton deliberately attempts to parking and traffic regulations. gouge out the eyes of opponents and breaks their limbs whenever possible, the collegiate sport continues to draw huge audiences.

Something must be done, however, to mop up the chess situation. Dr. Emanuel Lasker, former world's chess champion, has rejected all overtures to take part in the forthcoming grand masters' tournament, alleging that in the 1924 tournament he had been clocked by a highly sophisticated timepiece and cheated out of his proportionate share of the gate receints. In reply the secretary of the tournament committee denies the charges and makes the counter accusation that Dr. Lasker uses unfair ventilation methods to annoy his opnonents and unset their train of thought, and makes a practice of smoking throughout a game long, black 5-cent cigars, which cause irritation to the throats of ordinary persons, as he blows the smoke across the table into the face of his opponent. Whether these charges be true or not, an investigation is in order. Here is an opening for some ambitious young senator. Furthermore, a czar of chessdom should be appointed so that the pastime may be continued under proper regulation. Rough stuff must be put down, and all rowdyism and mob rule rigorously suppressed.

DEMONSTRATING FORESTRY.

Following the free distribution of a million onies of the "Forestry Primer" by the American Tree association of this city, comes the announcement from Syracuse, N. Y., that the State college of forestry will demonstrate forestry "from the ground up," where all may see the development of the tree from the seedling to the lumber pile.

In Warren county, N. Y., just north of Glenn Falls and along the highway between Albany and Montreal, facetiously called the 'Bootleggers' Trail," is a vast tract of virgin timber lying on both sides of the highway be tween Lake George and the Hudson. Through the efforts of Charles Lathrop Pack, of Washington, this timberland has been conveyed to a trust, which during the coming summer will be operated under the auspices of the University of Syracuse.

Throughout the season the forestry students of the university will "put the forest to work," where every passer-by may see the scientific management of woodlands. Seedlings will be transplanted and cultivated, timber will be thinned out, and the ripened trees will be cut, converted into lumber and seasoned for commercial use.

Every conceivable operation in the art of should be fired from an American gun in be carried on by the students, for the double purpose of instructing the undergraduates of the university and educating the public in the conservation and restoration of the timber

> There are "arboretums" for the growing of trees for replanting cut-over lands in many States, and schools of forestry are not rare, but the Charles Lathrop Pack Forestry Trust of the New York College of Forestry is the first of its kind in this country, and, situated as it is for several miles along the main highway of travel into Canada, it will afford most unusual sight-seeing features for the thousands of automobile travelers who traverse the route every year. The educational value of the work will be beyond computation.

A VALUATION PLAN.

Col. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and parks, has worked out a scheme which should unravel the existing tangle regarding park and school site purchases. Under the law, officials can not pay more than 25 per cent above the assessed price for any piece of property. Usually owners are unwilling to part with their land at this price, and since the law went into effect few transfers have been made. In part, the difficulties are due to the fact that present assessments no longer represent the true value of the property, and the 125 per cent limitation is below the market price.

As a solution, Col. Grant suggests that a board of appraisers be appointed, made up of the assistant tax assessor, representatives of the Department of Justice and the park commission, and two citizens appointed by the commissioners. The board would appraise a stipulated number of parcels of land, 50 or more, for example, and the tax assessor either could revise their figures or accept them for his valuation. Such values would be up to date, and even though no government official would be permitted to pay more than 20 per cent above the assessed valuation for the property, the present situation would be re-

The plan is interesting and apparently will bear the closest scrutiny. Since it would relieve conditions which are blocking the progress of park and school building programs. every effort should be made to have it enacted

F STREET BURGLARS.

Some morning in the future the people of Washington will be astonished. They will search the columns of The Post in a vain effort to find the regular account of the looting of a store devoted to the sale of ladies' frocks and furs. But that will come only when the noc turnal collectors of such draperies have com pletely supplied their wants.

At present the demand is unsatisfied, and each morning readers are regaled with the account of the activities of the marauders who having cleaned up in Connecticut avenue, are now devoting their attention to the stores in F street. These establishments afford rich returns for the labors of the collecting fraternity. But the burglars appear to have great discernment, as they select only the choicest creations, with evidence of strong predilections for Parislan models.

While it is perhaps somewhat annoying for the F street merchants to find, upon arriving at their establishments in the morning, that the necessity for a "special sale" has been averted through the unexpected calls which have been made on them during the night. they must at the same time experience a feeling of satisfaction in witnessing the evidence that their unwelcome callers have testified to the high quality of the goods carried.

Of course no blame can be attached to the police department for its failure to apprehend the clothing collectors. They have plenty to keep them busy in preventing the violation of

COSTLY CARELESSNESS.

Fire losses in the District of Columbia in 1925 amounted to almost $1,000,000, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, an increase of 14 per cent over 1924. Nearly half the conflagrations were caused by matches or smoking. Next in importance came stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, entailing a loss of about $57,000, after which is listed incendiarism, causing a total of approximately $42,000 damage.

The figures constitute a striking commentary on the cost of carelessness. Stove, furnace, boiler and pipe conflagrations, only to a relatively small extent due to carelessness. caused not quite 6 per cent of the losses. Smoking and matches caused approximately 45 on designed to impress upon smokers the potential danger of the lighted match or burning cigarette carelessly flung away. Nevertheless each year's compilations of the causes of fire osses show that little progress has been made. Smokers continue to be careless, and the general public is forced to bear the burden of the loss caused by such carelessness. Responsibility is clearly up to each individual. Smoking carries with it the duty of making certain that matches or ashes do not cause conflagra-

ALIEN EGGS.

All the agricultural woes are not confined to the United States, says the Newcastle Courier. In the tight little island the British ministry of agriculture has been solemnly sitting on the state of the British egg, and has issued a fat printed report of the same. The traditional English dish of bacon and eggs is apparently English only in name. The bacon comes from the United States and the eggs from all parts of the world. The alien egg, according to the report, has driven out the product of the native British hen. The Latvian, the Esthonian, the Norwegian and the Irish egg, together with the Danish, the German and the Polish egg, have caught the British taste. Twenty million pounds sterling a year are being spent on alien eggs, and the ministry makes the formal recommendation that the English agriculturist give himself over seriously to raising British hens that will lay British eggs. Meanwhile, by a little order in council, they intend to boost the rates to make the entry of the alien egg a little harder, and its cost a little higher to the British con

Sweet Potatoes.

Take five medium-sized sweet potatoes and cook them until they are thoroughly done, but remove before they lose their firmness. Skin and slice them and put them in layers in a baking dish, and sprinkle each layer with brown sugar, and also dot each layer over with small pieces of butter. Cover the top with marshmallows and bake in a medium oven for about 45 minutes. Be careful not to have the oven too hot, for the marshmallows, burn easily. Men's Foreign Fabric Suits

Tailored for the Washington Type

Washington, leader in affairs of national interest, upholds its position in developing a Suit style of its own, a style that is different from the ordinary "run" of Suits, and one that shows a rare fashioning of fine suitings from the Old World into garments that combine smart style points with conservative dignity. And it is only natural that The Woodward & Lothrop Men's Store should be the first to show these Suits for The Washington Type.

SNOWDEN ASHFORD, LONG CIVIC LEADER, J DEAD IN HOSPITAL

Former Municipal Architect Served District Government Quarter of Century.

SUPERVISED BUILDING OF PUBLIC STRUCTURES

Was Responsible for Plans for 75 of Washington's Present Schools.

Snowden Ashford, former municipal architect of the District of Columbia, and an outstanding figure in civic afin the Ashford residence, 1414 Twenty-first street northwest. They will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. S. Bishop, of St. Thomas' Episcopal church. Mr. Ashford was born in this city. January 1, 1866, the eldest son of Mr. January 1, 1866, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Ashford. His father, who came from Virginia, lived in this city for more than 40 years, and was president of the first title insurance company in the District. His mother was a member of the Snowden family of Philadelphia.

January 1, 1866, the eldest son of Mr. Andrews has stated on several occasions that it would be impossible for him to reach effectiveness in enforcement without certain additional aids in the way of legislation from Congress.

Mr. Ashford married Antoinette K. Crichton, of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., November 16, 1901. In December of the same year he was promoted to the position of inspector of buildings. When Grover Cleveland was elected President of the United States Mr. Ashford designed the stands and arches which were erected at the pension office for the inaugural celebration.

Mr. Ashford was a member of the Washington chapter of the American Institute of Architects, the Society of Natives, the Meridian university, Cheyy Chase and Century clubs and the Sigma Chi and Theta Nu Epsilon fraternities.

Mr. Ashford is survived by his wife, Mrs. Antoinette Crichton Ashford: a son, Snowden Ashford, Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Annette Ashford Wattles and Mrs.. Agnes Ashford Robert. Both of the latter are married to lieutenants in the United States navy and are now in Honolulu. Funeral services for Mr. Ashford will be held tomorrow atfernoon at 2 o'clock in the Ashford residence, 1414 Twenty-first street northwest. They will be company in the District. His mother was a member of the Snowden family of Philadelphia.

He was educated at Rittenhouse academy and at the Christian Brothers Roman Catholic school. He prepared for college at the Lehigh Preparatory school in Bethlehem, Pa., and passed examinations for a course in civil engineering at Lehigh university. He was afterward graduated from Lafayette college, having made ready for the profession of architect.

Enters Building Business.

After leaving LaFayette, Mr. Ashford entered the office of A. B. Mullett, who formerly had been supervising architect of the United States Treasury Later Mr. Ashford was associated with John L. Smithmeyer, architect of the Congressional Library, and for two years he worked on plans for the library. When that work was completed, Mr. Ashford went to West Virginia and entered the building business. In 1892, he returned to Washington and formed a partnership with Howard Sill, afterward practicing his profession of arcnitecture here.

Mr. Ashford entered the District service in 1895, when he was appointed assistant inspector of buildings. He revised the building regulations of the city in 1990, and introduced a card system and other methods to increase the efficiency of the inspector's office. He prepared the plans and specifications for all school houses, engine houses and other District buildings, until, partially through his efforts, such work was intrusted to architects of the city and the buildings were erected under his supervision.

Designed Inaugural Arches.

Mr. Ashford married Antoinette K. Crichton, of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., November 16, 1901. In December of the force of the Treasury desired the proposition of the city and the buildings were erected under his supervision.

HOUSE GROUP CHANGES AGAIN ON PARK MEASURE

New Plan Bases Property : Value Awards at Start of Proceedings.

WOMEN'S BILL FAVORED

The House District committee yesterday changed position for the third time on the bill now pending on the House calendar, designed to assist the National Capital park and planning commission in the acquisition of park sites. The bill seeks to prevent changes to property after the commission has se about to acquire it.

The original bill was considered to be too drastic by Representatives Houston, of Delaware, and Gilbert, of Kentucky, and after it had been reported, another bill was prepared for substitution when the measure was called up in the House. This substitute would have provided that condemnation juries make awards on property as of the date of inspection. Yesterday, on motion of Chairman Zihlman, another substitute was prepared providing that the award be based on the value of the property as of the date of the institu-

AIR

There's a boarding house lady whose name we won't call, who had so many boarders some slept in the hall. From morning till night she worked like an elf, she was both cook and chambermaid, all by herself. Her boarders were tickled to death with the place, except for one kick she must constantly face. This complaint of her boarders she never could meet. It seemed that their rooms always needed more heat. At last she phoned GRIFFITH'S to fill up the bin. Now they open the windows to let cool air in.

Buick reliability is one reason why the majority of new Buicks every year are purchased by old Buick owners.

For they have discovered the great pleasure of owning a car with one safeguard after another in its design, to prevent trouble.

Buick is the car with the Sealed Chassis, which encases every operating part inside an iron or steel housing, to keep out dirt.

Buick is the car with the high-speed starting motor, for reliability in starting-with mechanical 4-wheelbrakes, for certainty in stoppingand with a six-cylinder Valve-in-Head engine, for engine performance that is the envy of the motor car industry.

"But he will; I have a feeling that he will. It's uncanny how my intuitions come true, Julia." The mother was stirring a cupful of lemon juice into her pan of sugar. "What does he do down at the office?"

"He's just a young lawyer. They gire him to run around with papers and collect bills."

Mrs. Pullen poured water into the ban, which she now shoved over a burnar on the stove. "I've seen pictures of some of the big judges," said she, "with black silk gowns on. Do judges get very large salaries, Julia?"

"I don't know. But it'll be a long time before Mr. Parks gets to be a ling."

The men down at the office yell at him, and call him 'boy' sometimes when they want him to come—just to tease him, you know. My boss is the junior partner, and he calls him 'Willy."

"That shows they are fond of him."

In this case the hold-up is clearly useless. Declarer has a total of four Hearts in his two hands and the lead of the Three shows that the leader, who presumably led his fourth best, can not have had more than five because there is but one card lower than the Three. Even if he had five, Declarer can count that East must have four and that to hold up would sacrifice two tricks without any return, because Ace-x-x can five exhaust a hand which holds at least four cards in that suit.

On Monday I gave a case in which a Declarer, with Ace-x-x and with no possible trick in the suit in Dummy, possible trick in the suit in Dummy, should not hold-up, and yesterday another Ace-x-x hand was shown to be studied until today. It is another non-hold-up, but in giving such examples I wish to emphasize that the hold-up is advantageous oftener than not and, it should be made unless Declarer is sure that his hand belongs to one of the exceptional classes. When determining whether to hold-up or not, the Declarer should always appreciate that the sole object of the hold-up is to exhaust the adversary on the right so that he can not lead the established adverse suit. When the card originally led shows that the adversary on the right has at least four cards of the suit and can not be exhausted by holding up until the third round, then such hold-up is obviously useless and merely starts the adversaries off with two tricks. When the original lead is the Deuce or, considering the other cards in sight, a card which must be the lowest beld by the leafer and when the De adversary on the right must have four, and the hold-up can not be of advantage to the Declarer.

In the No Trump hand given yesterday the cards were distributed as fol-

Dear Viola Paris: I am troubled by the unsightly appearance of my ankles. I have cists, like puffs, on each side of the ankle bone. Is my case incurable? My left ankle turns in, and both my ankles are very weak.

THANKFUL READER.

Answer: This is a case for a foot specialist and perhaps a surgeon. However, it is by no means hopeless. You should not neglect it, but should consult an orthopedic specialist as soon as possible. Low-heeled shoes conforming to the shape of the foot should be worn.

Dear Viola Paris: What is a good astringent to use after washing the face? Can you suggest a dark cream that can be harmlessly used on the eyelashes?

MABEL. Answer: A very simple but effective astringent can be made at home by adding a few drops of tincture of benzoin to two ounces of plain witch-hazel. There are good dark creams for the eyelashes and eyebrows, but, as you know, it is not possible for me to give trade names in this column. Vaseline is good to keep the lashes

Mr. E. Mead Johnson, Sr., President of the Company, summarizes his letter to us as follows:

Business: Mead Johnson & Company was incorporated under the laws of Indiana in 1915 and is today the largest manufacturer of infant diet materials in the United States. Its principal product, Mead's Dextri-Maltose, is sold in 25 countries, has a wide distribution in the United States, Canada and several Latin-American countries, and is being rapidly introduced in England and some of its colonies, as well as in other parts of the world. Other highly specialized infant foods made by the Company are Mead's Standardized Cod Liver Oil, Casec, Mead's Lactic Acid Milk, Mead's Protein Milk, Recolac and Mead's Powdered Milk. All of the Company's products are purchased by the consumer from druggists on the prescription or recommendation of physicians. The Company advertises to the medical profession exclusively and reaches over 300,000 physicians through direct mail advertising, space in medical journals and through its own representatives. A recent survey indicates that over 98 per cent of the wholesale druggists and 80 per cent of retail druggists in the United States carry the Company's products and the number of infants whose daily feedings consist wholly, or in part, of products made by this Company is estimated at over 500,000.

Earnings: Mead Johnson & Company have made consistent progress and for ten years the sales and profits of each year have shown an increase over the preceding one.

Messrs. Wolf & Company and Ernst & Ernst have certified that the consolidated earnings of the Company, after eliminating non-recurring bonuses to officers (for 1924 $135,461.30, and for 1925 $162,999.08) and after allowing for Federal Taxes at 1316% have been as follows:

Dividends: The Directors have placed the Common Stock on a yearly dividend basis of $3.00 per share, payable quarterly, the first dividend date to be on or before April 1st, 1927. Current Position: Current assets on November 30, 1926, after deducting the dividend since paid on Common Stock, were over 5.3 times all liabilities, including reserve for Federal income tax on 1926 profits. Cash and marketable securities alone were over 3.2 times such liabilities. Management: The Management which has developed the Company to its present position of leadership and earning power will continue in charge of its affairs.

We offer this stock "when, as and if issued and received" by us and subject to approval of our counsel. Legal matters to be passed upon by Mr. Phelps Darby for Company and Messrs. Dykema, Jones & Wheat for bankers. The Company's accounts have been certified by Messrs. Wolf & Company and Messrs. Ernst & Ernst. It is expected that stock certificates will be ready for delivery on or about February 10th, 1927. The Company has agreed to make application in due course to list this stock on the New York Curb.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

That there will be no interruption of the interhigh basketball series as the result of the riot following last Tuesday's Western-Central game at the Arcadia auditorium is indicated in the opinion of school officials not directly active in the investigation.

Although school authorities yesterday suspended all interhigh games pending thorough investigation and final settlement of the affair, it is expected that the necessary action will be taken today and that tomorrow's double-header, as well as the three sets of games next month will be played as scheduled.

The High schools will have to post a bond before each future game to be played in the Arcadia court to guard the owners against a repetition of the $400 damage resulting from last Tuesday's free-for-all, the management of the building announced last night. This statement dispelled rumors to the effect that the Arcadia management would refuse to allow the use of the court for future series games.

The investigation is not expected to interfere with the "outside" games or contests not in the public high series. BLACK BART WINS YALAHA PURSE, MIAMI FEATURE

Strong Finish Cuts Down Liane

Cloister's Late Spurt Brings Triumph in the Second.

The Heathen Wins 6th for Jockey's Ray's 2d Victory.

lami, Fia., Jan. 26 (By the Associated Press).—The Mirasol statel Press).—The Mirasol statel colors were much in evidence today. They were borne to victory twice. My Boy Friend was the first to score in the baby race, and Biack Bart, under B. Ray's excellent ride, landed the Yalaha purse, which teatured the card. He ran the mile and a sixteenth in the fast time of 1:45 2-5.

Liane gained second, while Cotlogomor, the favorite, was third. The start was good and Liane dashed away like a quarter horse. He was leading by five lengths in the run down the back stretch, while Black Bart was second. Around the turn Ray called on Black Bart, and the gelding, closing with rare gameness, rushed into the lead and won by three lengths. Liane beat Cotlogomor a head for the place.

Walter J. Salmon's Polymel, well played, scored in a drive in the maiden 3-year-old event, first number on the card. Ima Baby was second and Florenda third. Polymel broke well in his stride, and little Hebert, who had the mount, made it tell by stepping into a long lead. He led at one time by five lengths, but in the last 100 yards began to tire, but lasted long enough to win by a head over Ima Baby, with Florenda a length back.

Jimmy McGee's consistent and favorite old plater, Cloister, added another purse to his long list of victories when he defeated a fair field in the second event, a mile and a sixteenth. He paid even money. Red Stone, as usual, with his brilliant early speed, rushed Into the lead while Cloister trailed stretch Cloister began to run. He closed with a rush on the field. Smith, who had the mount, tried to come through on the inside but was blocked. He pulled around the field and closing gamely on the outside won going away the place.

Ten high-class juveniles competed in the third event, a quarter of a mile dash, and it was won by My Boy Friend with Flying Torch second, and True Pal, coupled with Flying Torch, third.

M. L. Cooper's Mazetta, ridden by Fields was the winner by a length over the favorite, Leather-wood, in the fourth race. Ball Gee was third. Mazetta dashed away to a long lead, displaying good speed made all the pace to win by a length. Leatherwood beat Ball Gee a like distance for the place.

C. H. Pierce's The Heathen with B. Ray in the saddle won the sixth event in a drive over the favorite Volante with Anna Marrone II third. Incidentally it was Ray's second score of the day. He got the Heathen away flying and made every post a winning one. He never let the colt stop and saved ground at every turn to win by half a length. Volante beat Anna Marrone II a length for second money. The final event, a mile and a sixteenth gallop for 3-year-olds, resulted in an upset when Pop Bell paying $14.70 was the winner, leading to the wire the odds-on favorite Rosetta Stone.

Randolph - Macon to Be Guest; Week's Card Sparse.

Having suffered four straight defeats, the George Washington team may be revamped for the Randolph-Macon contest, it was hinted yesterday. There may be three new faces in the line-up, with a forward, a guard and the center position being filled by players who heretofore served as substitutes.

Over at Miami LOUIS RUBENSTEIN, who has again drawn a favorite post position, is taken to grab off the kale in the opening spasm. The Draun trick is on feather edge.

FLAGSHIP is the one slated to be yanked forth from the old vat. Now this is one considerably better than those recent efforts would indicate.

PRICEMAN is another that seems to have been dropped into a nice snug spot, while the one that takes MID-WESTERN'S measure in the closing event will get all the money.

By the way, Walter wires me from Tampa—down where the bogey man has the razor guy on the run—that PRIN-CESS IVA, in the third, is a double dyed in the wool special. "Tell the boys to take the lid off today," such is the gab appended. Yea, Bo, you have the answer in your lily white mitt.

TO ROSES, 23 TO 11

league race which, they hope, is No. 1 on another long list of triumphs. Their last winning streak, which reached 29 games, was halted recently by the Clovers. The Boys Club Celtics were the victims of the Roses last night by a 23-to-11 score, while the other game at the Washington barracks resulted in a 31-to-30 victory for the Columbias over their old rivals, the Park Vlews. While the final score seems to indicate that the Roses won with ease, such is not the case. Going into the second half of the short end of a 9-to-2 count, be Celtics battled their way to within three points of their rivals at the start of the fourth period. The Roses steamed away in the remaining minutes.

The Columbias seem to have something on the Park View team, which has been beating a good class of clubs and yet has never lowered the colors of its neighborhood rivals. Led by Gordon, the Columbias were ahead by a slight margin throughout the game.

Scheduled for May 21

The annual "C" club track and field meet for scholastic athletes will be held this year on Saturday. May 21 in Wilson stadium under the auspices of the graduate athletic organization of Central High school. The committee in charge after a special meeting yesterday announced that it will go ahead announced that it will go ahead with plans at this time and that entry blanks will be issued shortly.

Any high or prep school in the East or other sections is invited to send teams. According to the committee this year's games will be conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before. Besides the regular schedule of events there will be several events open only to junior high school athletes of Washington.

Woodward Five Easy
For Western Lights

The Western Junior Lightweights held the Woodward Junior Lightweights to a lone field goal in their 28-2 game at the Western High school gym yestering day. Capt. Tash and Skidon led the attack for the winners, the former netting five loopers while the latter dropped in six goals from all angles.

Instead, each entrant will play entirely in the city which he represents. Peterson has compiled over 300 diagrams of shots which arise in a billiard table. Twenty of these diagrams will be mailed from head-quarters of the tournament to each player before the beginning of a match.

The two cities, or players, which are matched together will receive the same or identical diagrams. Play will start with the three balls being placed upon the table according to diagram No. 1. The two contesting players will attempt to run ten billiards and each player will be credited with the number of points he makes, before missing, up to ten.

each is limited to 10 points in any test of this plan it was also found that it will be extremely difficult for even the very best players to make a perfect score.

In view of the fact that the tourna ment is to be at straight rail, Manage Wood has decided that his round robin event to determine Washington's repre

Kramer declared yesterday. His statement follows:

"We are not condoning this for one minute. We have suspended interhigh basketball games and unless we can get assurances which convince us that there will be no reasonable chance of a repetition there will be no more games.

"We do not want to train our boys to be mollycoddles, but the school athletics should teach them restraint. If in the excitement of a game one player is struck, he should restrain himself and not strike back.

"So far as I have been able to discover the whole thing developed from an unintentional blow.
"We are not going about this matter simply to punish someone, but to develop something constructive. Unless our athetics develop sportsmanship and train not only the members of the teams but the rest of the students and the spectators in the rules of good conduct, decency and sportsmanship they fall short of one of the principal reasons for which they are sponsored.

MAT McGOSEY is another from away down deep in the old pickling vat. Worked a mile in 1:43 with his mouth wide open. Just possible he is in here for work. BOND SLAVE and NEVERMORE in the order named.

HATS UP, which favors this track, is taken to repeat. The one to beat is RUMBLING, with VIM GINGER and ICE well bunched. The latter is as fit as hands can make him.

COMRADE was an overnight commission horse they were taking "any old price." Now this internationally, to hold the others of that last race to like this one extra could get to dust of foo—W OW.

CUE TOURNEY AT KING PIN MONDAY

District Representative for Telegraphic Play to Be Picked.

A ROUND robin straight rail billiard tourney will be started at the King Pin pariors next Monday, the winner of which is to represent the National Capital in the American Amateur Telegraph billiard tournament, according to an announcement last night by William Wood. King Pin manager. Charles C. Peterson, of 8t. Louis, who is fostering this latest innovation in intercity billiard playing, reports that at least 30 cities will be represented in the event and that play will start within the next couple of weeks.

The competition will be unlike anything ever attempted before in the billiard game, inasmuch as the contesting players do not travel from city to city, neither do they assemble at any given point as is the case in usual tournayment play.

Instead, each entrant will play each is limited to 10 points in any one inning, and a class B man can make 19 points, so that he is on a par with the toppnotchers. In a test of this plan it was also found that it will be extremely difficult for even the very best players to make a perfect score.

In view of the fact that the tourn ment is to be at straight rail. Manager Wood has decided that his round robin event to determine Washington's representative will be at the same style of play, 200 points. Entries will be received up to 6 o'clock p. m. next Saturday.

EASTERN HIGH FIVE DEFEATS EPISCOPAL, 24 TO 21

Of Losers Costly

Lincoln Park Tossers Leading at Half by 13-7 Score.

Ten Players Are Used by Each Team in Close Game.

LEXANDRIA, Va., Jan. 26.—Eastern High's tossers from Washington defeated the court representate of Episcopal High on the lutter's today by a 24 to 21 score in one the cleanest-played and closested games of the local scholastic on.

Episcopal went into the lead at the tart of the game, but Eastern railied, o forge ahead at the completion of the rat half by a 13 to 7 score. The Virginians kept right on the heels of their rivals for the remaining minutes, but always fell short of tying the count.

Eastern outscored Episcopal from scrimmage, but would hardly have won the game had the Virginians made better use of their free shots. On seventeen tries from the foul line. Episcopal players turned in only 5 points.

Marlboro Soccer Club Plays Walford Sunday

Walford and Mariboro soccer clubs, champions of sections I and 2 respectively, of the Washington Soccer league, will play the first of a three-game series for the District soccer title Sunday on the Monument grounds at 2:30 o'clock. The Washington Post cup is the prize offered to the winner. Walford holds The Post cup at present by virtue of the championship it won last year. Edward Kruse has been selected to referee the match.

The second game of the series will be played at Mariboro the following Sunday and if a third game is necessary it will be played on a field to be designated. The German-Americans will play the British United club in the only regular league game scheduled,

The Anacostia Eagles, District unlimited champions, will meet the Atlantic Coast Line team, Southern amateur title holder, in the Congress Heights auditorium, starting at 8:30 o'clock. Victory for the Eagles will put them on a par with the best independent teams in the country and may mean a series of games with champion-nhip teams of other sections. The railroad club has been organized for more than six years and halls from Wilmington, N. C.

The Arcadians and Princess girls team will clash in the preliminary at 7:30 o'clock. Farren's Capital Serenaders will furnish the music.

Foul Shooting Fooling the Great Batters; Baseball's Inside Stories

This is the seventh of a series on the weaknesses of the great hitters of present day baseball-not their human frailties, but the especial variety of pitched bal which they can't hit.

which they can't hit.

Every big league pitcher has to learn how to pitch to the dangerous batsmen or he won't make good. No toiling student burning the midnight oil has to work harder than the hurler who must fix in his memory the right ball for the right man in the right place. What these men have learned regarding the real champions among the hitters—how easy it is to fool them by amusing tricks and devices—will be told in this newspaper—a hitter a day.

FOOLED INTO BITING ON WIDE CURVE

Harry Edwin Heilmann hadn't had the misfortune of being born in 1894. thus bringing his best years of baseball endeavor at the time when Tyrus Raymond Cobb was passing and Rogers Hornsby was flaming at his brightest. greater fame as a wonder batsman might have been his. He is a wonder, this rugged, husky California giant, but in his drive for hitting honors he has had to battle against the greatest left-hand hitting star and the greatest right-hand hitting star who ever were in the national game. And yet in the last six years he has snatched three batting championships and can show a five-year average

.378.

The Amalgamated Association of Big League Pitchers has decided that there N is no ball that can be pitched over or even near the plate that Heilmann can't hit hard and usually safely. Here is a batsman as near perfect as any in the field today. He can hit to any field, for he "pulls" low or high balls on the inside into left field, and he pushes low and high balls on the outside into right field. For a right-hand hitter he can send a ball as far into right field as any of the left-handers, confirmed right field hitters. And when the right ball comes he drives through the box and straight to center field. A sure enough triple threat. But where he can not be foiled by any of the displays of "stuff" by the masters of the pitching art, these gentlemen have discovered that he can be fooled. There is his only "weakness." He WILL occasionally "go after" a wide curve sweeping away from the end of his bat on the outside of the plate. It unofficially and officially as an officially and approximately the polysic of the Southern Intercollegists.

ten for Princeton by the Mesars. Murphy. Okeson and Crowell last Sunday, Hubbard said Princeton had simply denied his charges without offering to disprove them.

He went pretty far afield today, charging Stan Keck, the former Princeton tackle and captain, with a brutal foul against Barchet, Navy fullback, in the Navy-Princeton game of 1921 at Annapolis.

TO SUPPORT HUBBARD

Keek, he said, leaped into the air and came down with both knees on the small of Barchet's back as Barchet lay face down on the bail, out of bounds, after catching a punt.

They were not only profane but bad sportsmen, he said, because in his first game against Princeton, they went up to him just before the kick off, addressed him by a number of vite names and finally accused him of murdering a roommate of his who had been accidentally shot and killed some time before.

This. Hubbard said, was exceptionally bad sportamanship, because the roommate was killed while they were both handling the pistol in a reckless way and he had been almost unnerved by the tragedy. He thought the sportamanship of a great university should be above such an attempt to play on an opponent's nerves.

With Ed McMillan, Princeton's center and captain of 1925, acting as one of the assistant coaches, Brown's players became fluent conversationalists in the same unclean speech that he had charged against Princeton teams, Hubbard said.

reported as casuatties, both with an jured hands.

Maioney's injury, received in training at Boston, according to his manager, Dan Carroll, has forced concellation of a bout in Cieveland with Johnny Risko, scheduled for Monday next, and may compel a week's postponement of his widely heralded match with Jack Delaney at Madison Square Carden February 18.

With no engagements in the meantime, Maloney's manager is optimistic that the Boston heavyweight will be fully recovered in a fortnight and able to condition himself to meet Delaney as now scheduled. If not, the bout probably will be put back to February 25 or March 3.

Paciline's injury is more serious.

Paolino's injury is more serious, according to Rickard's matchmaker, Jess McMahon, and will keep the Spaniard on the shelf for at least a month, thus forcing indefinite postponement of a match with Knute Hansen, Wisconsin heavyweight. February 7. Paolino suffered the injury in a recent bout at Tamps, Fla., with Homer Smith.

McCarl Rules That Commissioners Have Power to

CONTINGENT ON FUND

Congress Urging Passage of Blanton Bill.

Prospect of early restoration of Police mer rank of inspector loomed yester-day when it became known, at the District building, that Comptroller General John R. McCarl has ruled that the comoners have authority to create new inspectorship to which to promote him, contingent on obtaining sufficient appropriation for his increased salary.

In Command at Start.

Headley was in command of the police traffic bureau, with the rank of inspector, when the traffic department was organized, and M. O. Eldridge was appointed director of traffic. Eldridge induced former Commissioner Frederick A. Fenning, in the early days of the latter's thirteen-month term of office, to demote Headley to captain and remove him from command of the bureau. This was done without submission of charges or opportunity for Headley to make a defense.

The commissioners yesterday also approved and transmitted to Congress a bill proposing to merge the police and municipal courts into one municipal court with civil and criminal branches housed in the same building, with separate entrances for each branch.

The building that will contain them is the $1,200,000 police court structure it is proposed to erect in Judiciary square, for which the commissioners this week asked an initial appropriation in the estimates supplemental to the 1928 District budget.

A bill providing that the old Ford A bill providing that the old Ford theater be remodeled and used as a museum for Lincoln relies, especially the Oldroyd collection, recently purchased by the government, and a head-quarters for the Grand Army of the Republic and other approved veterans organizations, was introduced in the Senate yesterday by Senator Watson, of Indiana. The measure would authorize an appropriation of $100,000 for the necessary remodeling and annual apropriations for its maintenance.

A similar bill has been introduced in the House by Representative Rathbone, of Illinois.

Federation to Hold

James G. Yaden, president of the Federation of Citizens Associations, yesterday aunounced that the committees on law and legislation and charities and correctious, of that body, will hold a public hearing Saturday at 8 p. m. in the boardroom of the District building, on the Van Winkle bill, now pending before Congress, to establish more firmly the woman's bureau of the police department, increase its personnel and raise the grade and pay of its commandation. Fraud Is Charged In $1.79 Settlement

Praud and collusion are charged by John W. Mangum, motorman, in a replication filed yesterday in circuit court in response to a plea filed by the Capital Travition Co. which was sued by Mangum for a $0,000 for alleged personal injuries. The plea of the company stated that it had settled with Mangum for his injuries by the payment of $1.79 and that he had signed releases relieving them of all liability. Through Attorneys Gardiner and Trimble the motorman states in his replication that he never knowingly signed the releases and that if he did they were obtained by fraud and collusion. The damage suit is based on injuries alleged to have been sustained by Mangum while on duty on a car at Fourteenth and Farragut streets northwest on March 25, 1924, when another car collided with the one on which he was working. His skull was fractured and he is suffering from permanent epilepsy, he charged.

AUTO KILLINGS IGNORED

This news was contained in a report in which the commissioners recommended to Congress passage of the Blanton bill to combine the United States park police force with the metropolitan police force of the District.

The bill contains a provision creating an additional inspectorship. The commissioners said in their report that this was unnecessary in view of McCarl's recent ruling.

McCarl was recently asked to rule on the point by a member of Congress interested in the promotion of Headley, and it is presumed that an effort will be made to provide an additional inspector's salary in the 1928 police department budget.

A total of 1.079 employes have asked for retirement in the six months ended December 31 and during the fiscal year 1926 only 1.381 requests for retirement were received.

If increased at this rate, the next six months will find almost twice as many employes on the retirement lists during 1927. Disability claims also are on the increase, 552 filing within the last six months of 1926, while claims for the entire preceding year were 661.

HOPE TO END CONGESTION

Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, yesterday planned to present to the District board of commissioners, at its first meeting in February, a list of approximately 850 public hack stands, where taxicabs will be permitted to wait for passengers.

Agreement with all the taxicab companies and independent owners of cabs was reached Tuesday evening at a conference in Maj. Hesse's office. The police chief presented a list of 811 hack stands he proposed to ask the commissioner to establish, most of them new ones.

The taxicab men suggested changes in the locations of a few of these and the list was finally agreed to. Three of the large companies saked leave to suggest additional stands and the police chief gave them until the end of the month to submit them.

"I will accept their lists unless reasons appear for rejecting some of the suggested stands," said Maj. Hesse, "for my desire is to have as many stands as the business will support, to end the 'cruising' evil, with its added traffic congestion, while at the same time making cabs easily available to the public.

Campaign.

Admitting an armory in keeping with other Federal buildings, as proposed by Representative Zihiman, of Maryland, is desirable, District, national guard officials said last night that there was great need for at least adequate quarters and that they must continue their congressional campaign with that end in view.

The need of an armory was presented to the House committee on public buildings and grounds yesterday by Maj. Gen. Anton Stephan, guard commander, and Col. Lloyd M. Brett, adjutant general, and while a suitable building was suggested, need of even an adequate one was stressed by guard officers.

Since being forced out of a rented almory on L street last year, the guard has been occupying temporary government dormitories at North Capitol and B streets, rented rooms on U atreet, a small building on the water front, separate garages and space in the Terminal warehouses. Attempts to obtain the pension building have failed to date. An armory has not been included in the Federal building program, and some of the dormitories housing the guard are to be torn down. The building rental plan has been found expensive and unpopular, and would have to have congressional sanction.
